Important Tax Deadlines for 2019

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has issued a list of important tax deadlines for 2019. We have organized them below in chronological order. Remember, the IRS takes these deadlines seriously, and so should you. No adjustments have been made at this time as a result of the current partial shutdown of the federal government.

Family Business

A Family Business Does Not Have to Be a Casualty of Divorce

What if a divorce threatens to tear your family business apart? It's bad enough when a marriage ends, but it's even worse when the former spouses both work for a family company. That usually means one or both will have to remove themselves from the business — for a price. This article gives you an idea of how the value of a business is determined when divorcing spouses disagree.

Benefits Administration

Workers' Compensation Vs. Disability Income Insurance

Among individuals who are 20 years old today, one in four will become disabled by the time they retire. The disability may or may not be work-related, but either way, most people aren't prepared for life with a disability. Disability insurance or workers' compensation can help meet the financial needs that are inevitable. This article explains the difference between the two types of insurance.
