Team Member Spotlight: Todd Donatello

Todd Donatello recently joined our Sage Intacct implementation team as a Manager. He brings with him more than 20 years of experience that blends accounting, financial management and accounting system design.

This in-depth knowledge gives Todd the ability to create a customized solution that is perfectly adapted to a client's specific needs. Just as critical, Todd has conducted multiple implementations for businesses in a variety of industries, learning that a smooth and seamless transition from a legacy accounting system to the more powerful and comprehensive Sage Intacct platform is an essential part of giving clients the Power of More.

Todd has a thorough understanding of how the right accounting system can contribute to an organization's strategic growth. "Sage Intacct really gives the management team much more control over how a business operates. It makes a huge difference" says Todd.

“Clients are delighted with Sage Intacct,” says Todd. “They love what the software allows them to do, how it organizes and streamlines so many functions. It is very gratifying when we help an organization move from having to deal with cumbersome and time-consuming processes to having complete control through the very complete, very potent Sage Intacct system.”

Todd and our Sage Intacct team also work to keep clients on track with the latest updates, additions and, when necessary, expansion of installed systems. “Our job continues once Sage Intacct is up and running, helping clients to discover even more ways to use the software to improve processes and streamline operations.”

It helps that Todd has practical experience on both the accounting firm and client side. After graduating from Stonehill College, where he earned a degree in business administration, Todd was in the restaurant business. He then joined what is now TD Bank, which led to senior audit positions for two of the leading accounting firms in his native state of Maine.

When he is not creating customized solutions for our clients’ accounting and financial management needs, you might find Todd spending time with his twins, or on the golf course. He is an avid golfer who finally reached the elusive goal of breaking par for a round a few years ago. He also enjoys cooking and spending time with his fiancée, Nicole.
