Gray, Gray & Gray, LLP's News

Financial Times Ranks Gray, Gray & Gray Among Fastest Growing Companies in the Americas

We are excited to announce that Gray, Gray & Gray has been named by Financial Times to its 2026 “The Americas’ Fastest Growing Companies List.” Gray, Gray & Gray ranks #255 on this year’s list of the top 300 companies, and is the only accounting firm to make this year’s list. “The Americas’ Fastest Growing Companies” is compiled by the Financial Times in partnership with Statista and features the top 300 companies in the Americas that achieved the strongest revenue growth between 2022 and 2025.

“It is an honor to be recognized by such a prestigious publication as the Financial Times,” said James DeLeo, MBA, CPA/MST. “Our steady growth can be attributed to many factors, including an expanding roster of clients who appreciate and trust our broad scope of services, our experienced and dedicated team of professionals, and the fact that we have been constantly evolving for more than eight decades, and remain committed to doing so for the benefit of our clients and employees.”

Family Business

Keeping It in the Family...and on the Payroll

There are many good reasons for small business owners to hire trusted family members, including that they may be able to reap potential tax savings. But it's important to pick the right person for the right position and consider how employees who are outside the family might respond to nepotism. Here's some guidance if you're thinking about hiring your spouse, your children or other relatives.

Make the Most of the General Business Credit

Tax credits are far more valuable than tax deductions. Unlike a deduction, which reduces a business's taxable income, a credit reduces the business's tax liability dollar for dollar. Tax credits aren't unlimited, however. For businesses, the aggregate value of tax credits may be limited by the general business credit (GBC). This article explains how it works and provides a list of specific individual tax credits included under the GBC.

How Much Does the IRS Let Delinquent Taxpayers Live On?

The IRS sets up repayment plans for people who fall behind on their taxes. As part of the plans, the tax agency calculates how much individuals need to live, based on their circumstances and where they live. From there, the IRS typically comes up with installment payments that will result in Uncle Sam being paid within certain time limits. How much income can delinquent taxpayers keep? Here are the latest amounts.
